Poetry.

Uncle Isham.

The Episcopal Recorder says: The following beautiful lines were handed to us, as written by a lady of North Carolina, on the death of an aged negro servant:

One less is left to love us here—the good old man is gone;
But still he points us to the Rock he loved to rest upon;
One less to warn us what to do, and what to leave undone;
But still he antimates our souls the Christian race to run.

Though years he loved to labor, as a happy child loves play;
He loved the garden, loved the corn, and loved the new mown hay;
He made a pet of everything by Nature's bounty given;
He looked on nature as herself the work and gift of Heaven.

Though years we saw him daily fed by his own household hand—
His head stooped low to meet the cup in loving childhood's hand;
And by this utter helplessness we saw him sorely tried,
Yet bowed, the truest humility before the crucified.

We saw him robed in holiness—we saw him filled with love;
For all who dwell beneath the skies—for Him who reigns above;
Of how his soul was feasting on the bread of life divine!
And drinking of the blessed cup that flows with heavenly wine.

We saw him silent, fearing still to speak the holy name;
But when the Spirit bade him spread abroad the Saviour's fame,
We saw his withered arms upraised, we heard his earnest prayer,
That every soul upon the earth his saviour's grace might share.

We heard his gospel messages—we heard his glorious truths
Of praises' praises evermore to God, and to the Lamb;
And in his last ecstacies we saw the tear-drop stand,
In those dim eyes he could not reach with his poor palsied hand.

His God hath wiped those tears away, that hand hath power to hold
The waving palm of victory, the thrilling harp of gold;
The brow that looked all meekness here, now wears a radiant crown
That evermore before the throne of glory bows-eth down!

We miss him when we seem to tread the narrow path alone—
We miss his fitly spoken words, we miss their touching tone.
For ever chord within his heart was attuned by love—
We miss the music of his voice as we would miss a dove

We miss him when a blessing comes we wish with him to share.
And when a fiery trial comes we miss his fervent prayer;
But Saviour! when we draw towards Thee, his words salute our ear.
We cannot get too near the Lord—we cannot get too near!"

So like some sweet confiding child, he loved on Thee to rest,
With thine own robe of righteousness so folded round his breast,
That even Death's dread arrow fell as harmless by thy side.
We think of him as one who lives, and not as one who died.

And when before the mercy seat we sometimes dare to kneel,
So poor in spirit that the sense of want is all we feel,
Thy quickening Spirit bids us ask—Dear Saviour, let us be—
Still more like him—for them we shall be more and more like Thee!

Selected Story.

A Woman's Gift.

A SKETCH FROM REAL LIFE.

It was a bright winter morning, and Mr. Segrist's two pretty nieces had just come down stairs, fresh as Hebe, and pink-cheeked as the roses of fragrant hyacinth bells in the south window, where the sunshine had gotten into such hopeless tangle with the ivy vines and rosebuds and feathery sprays of fern. Very pretty girls they were, in a delicate, womanly fashion, although nobody would ever have been reminded by them of the Venus de Medici, and not an artist had ever thought of asking them to sit for a Madonna. It is the every day style of beauty that wears best, and Lissa and Cora sighed for nothing rarer or more precious.

"So he has failed, has he?" Said Cora to her uncle, who had just been promulgating the news of the day from behind his newspaper. "What a pity! and he was so nice and agreeable."

"Failed! Mr. Kirdwood!" echoed Lisa, her rosy cheek losing a shade or so of its satin bloom. "O, uncle, how did that happen?"

"As most failures happen, my dear," said Mr. Segrist, folding up his paper and laying his spectacles on one side, preparatory to the morning meal, "Too much of canvas, and too little ballast. Yes, it is a pity; he was a good young fellow enough, and this will throw him back a good twenty years."

Lisa sat thinking, her pansy-blue eyes fixed intently on the pattern of the table-cloth, her red lips apart, until her sister's clear, bird-like voice roused her from the temporary abstraction.

"Upon my word, Lisa," the elder cried, merrily, "I do not believe you are in a trance. Why don't you answer my questions?"

Lisa started, both cheeks suddenly crimsoning.

"—I was only thinking, Cora. What was it you asked me?"

"About our ball dresses for to-morrow evening. I think bunches of silver barley would be prettier to loop them up than the commonplace roses. Everbody wears roses."

"O, Cora," cried downright Lisa, "how can you talk about ball dresses when—you remember who was to have taken you there?"

"Mr. Kirkwood?" said Cora, calmly. "Of course he'll not go now, but we can easily send for cousin George."

"Then you really mean to go?"

"Of course; why shouldn't I? Surely, Lisa, you can't expect me to go into mourning because Guy Kirkwood has failed. He was no relative of ours."

"I think he loved you, Cora," said Lisa, in a low voice; "and you thought so, too."

"He must learn to unlove me, then," said the elder sister, with a musical little laugh. "Mr. Kirkwood the successful merchant, was very well; but Mr. Kirkwood, the beggar, cannot expect to indulge in the luxury of a wife. Of course all that is over, for good and all."

And Cora calmly poured out a second cup of coffee for her uncle.

"But, Cora," pleaded her sister, "it isn't as if yourself were poor. You know we will have a little money of our own."

"Very true, wise Lisa; but I mean to keep my own to myself, and not spend it in bolstering up the ruined fortunes of any unlucky speculator. No, no, my child, my husband must bring money of his own, not be draining upon my slender resources."

Lisa shook her head.

"That sounds very worldly," said she.

"Does it? Now I think it has just the common-sensical sound to it. People must look at these things from a practical point of view."

"Uncle," cried Lisa, almost passionately, "don't you think she ought to like him all the better because he is in trouble and need?"

"My dear, my dear," said the old gentleman, composedly crumbling up a bit of dry toast on his plate, "I can't pretend to judge of these things. You girls must manage to settle your own affairs between you."

"My mind is quite made up already," said Cora Segrist, calmly.

And when poor Guy Kirkwood's card came up that afternoon to the room where the two sisters were arranging the bunches of silver barley ears that Madame Ficha, the milliner, had just sent round in a mammoth paper box, Bessie, the maid came courtesying demurely down into the parlor with:

"Please, sir, Miss Cora is engaged."

Guy Kirkwood went slowly and sadly away, without answering a single word. If only she had remained true to him he believed that he could have breasted the cold waves of all other fate; but now—

Well such was the way of the world. He must make up his mind to take the bitter with the sweet; the sweet had been honey-sweet, and the bitter was as gall.

"Uncle, can I speak to you for a minute?"

Mr. Sergist, setting away the piles of the dusty papers in his law library, started at the sound of the soft, bell-like voice.

"My child, I thought you and Cora had gone to the ball."

"Cora has gone, uncle, but I thought I would rather remain quietly at home, Uncle," and here she paused and hesitated.

"Well, child, what is it?"

"You are my guardian and trustee, uncle," she went, as if forcing herself to speak. "Will you tell me how much money Cora and I have got?"

"About two thousand pounds, Lisa. But what makes you ask?"

"And can I do as I please with it?"

"That depends on circumstances. Probably yes."

"Well, uncle, I want to lend it to Mr. Kirkwood, to help him get into business again."

"Child, what for?"

"Because he has no friends left, uncle; because I feel so sorry for him," said Lisa Sergist, with deepened color and downcast eyes. "And uncle, he must not know who let him have it."

"Why not, you little network of riddles and mystery?"

"Oh, because I couldn't bear to have him know it. It could be managed, couldn't it?"

"Yes, I suppose. But are you really in earnest, Lisa?"

"Yes uncle."

"And the interest of the money, which has always supplied you with pins and ribbons, and tape, and gim crackery in general?"

"I can do without that, uncle," Lisa resolutely answered. "But you mustn't tell Cora. She would think it silly and romantic."

"Well, well, child," said uncle Segrist, smiling, though he was in reality deeply moved, "you shall have your own way."

The next week Mr. Kirkwood's lawyer informed him that two thousand pounds lay at his banking house, subject to his draft or order at any time,

"Two thousand pounds!" cried poor Guy, quite overwhelmed at the magnitude of the sum. "Who would lend me two thousand pounds!"

"That is what I am not at liberty to inform you," said Mr. Jessup, stiffly.

And it was in vain that Guy Kirkwood, while marshaling in his memory all his probable friends, tried to fix the benefit upon one or the other of them. No; he could not place it anywhere, this mysterious benefaction. He must just accept it in the spirit in which it had been given.

"And I will prove to my unknown friend," he said in a choking voice, "that the favor has not been bestowed in vain. Upon this foundation, Heaven helping me, I will build up the beginning of a new fortune—a more prosperous career.

Mr. Kirkwood's words proved almost prophetic. Five years from that time he had not only regained his former position in the commercial world, but had shot beyond it; and Cora Segris, who in the meantime had indulged in futile flirtations, and broken off two engagements, began seriously to consider the propriety of once more spreading her net for the bird she had let fly so long ago.

"Because I really am getting quite middle aged!" said Cora, demurely; and Mr. Kirkwood came often to Mr. Segrist's mansion; but Cora, disposed though she was to take the most favorable view of matters, could not but distrust that it was more on her sister's account than her own.

"Does he really care for her I wonder?" thought Cora; "or is it only to revenge himself upon me for the cavalier manner in which I dismissed him five years ago? Nonsense! Lisa isn't half as pretty as I am, and she never was. I shall win this battle yet."

Mr. Kirkwood had just posted a letter—a missive whereon hung his fate—directed to Lisa Segrist. For he had learned to love the shy, gentle girl, and lacking courage to tell her so in words, he had put the substance of his heart's hope on paper.

"For I won't live in this sort of suspense any longer." was his secret resolve.

From the post office he went directly to old Jessup's law sanctum.

"Have you paid back that two thousand pounds, according to my orders?" he said.

"I paid it to-day with the legal interest, both simple and compound, for five years," answered Jessup, succinctly.

"I only wish I knew whom to thank for this stepping stone to fortune."

Old Mr. Segrist, who was sitting by, looked up queerly over the tops of his spectacle glasses.

"What would you give to know, Guy?" said he.

"Half I am worth," was the impulsive answer.

"Well," chuckled the old man, "I can tell you on cheaper terms than that. I was bound over to secrecy for five years, but the time was up last week. Your mysterous good angel was none other than my little niece, Lisa."

Kirkwood colored—his heart gave a great upward bound. Lisa! his Lisa! He turned silently away and left the office.

"A curious way of acknowledging a favor!" cried Mr. Segrist, a little testily.

"Hem!" commented Mr. Jessup. "There are some people who feel too little to say "thank'ee" and some who feel too much. Mr. client, I rather think, belongs to the latter class. I do not believe he is ungrateful."

"Nor I either—on the whole," said Mr. Segrist, repenting in haste.

As for Guy, he went straight to Lisa.

"Lisa," he said, "I have written you a letter, which you will probably receive to-morrow morning, but I cannot wait for it to come now. I have learned this eveing whose hidden bounty carved out a new path for me. Lisa, there is but one way to pay you; to give you myself and my whole heart, if you will deign to accept the poor return;"

Lisa had grown very pale and quiet.

"No said she, "I accept no mere tribute of gratitude."

"But Lisa, the letter which I wrote to you befors I heard these things—the letter asking you to be my wife—you must answer that now," he pleaded, refusing to let go her trembling hand.

"You have said no to my second offer, what say you to my first?"

The roses had returned to Lisa's cheek, the soft light to her eyes, as she put the other hand willingly into Kirkwood's and answered "Yes."

The Late Alice Cary.

A STORY TOLD OF AN EARLY DISAPPOINTMENT.

When the Cary sisters made their first pilgrimage to the Eastern literary Mecca, Rufus Wilmot Griswood was among their earliest acquaintances. This gentleman was a prominent litterateur when men of letters were less numerous in New York than at present. He was born in Benson, Vt., in 1815, and was, consequently, but about five years the senior of the elder sister. Having been educated as a printer, he became successively a Baptist preacher, a journalist, and an author. In the wider field of letters, he should be spoken of rather as a compiler than as an author. He published various collections of the prose and poetry of England and America, and, in connection with other authors, several works of popular biography. No one was better acquainted with the state of the literary market, or with the publishers of the Metropolis, than Mr. Griswold.

The two rural devotees of literature from the Far West were strangers, and needed a chaperone. He came to the rescue. He gave them space in his books, flattered them, encouraged their hopes, and assisted in finding a market for their wares. Toward Alice he more especially inclined. Their first acquaintance opened into friendship, friendship into intimacy, and intimacy into love. It was said at last that the parties were solemnly affianced. This was nearly twenty years ago, and Alice had then passed thirty. He was still older, and would seem to have passed the bounds of juvenile folly, if those bounds are ever passed by man. But he was a blase citizen of the world, and she was quiet, retired, sensitive, domestic and unassuming. Trouble came between the two in the shape of a woman of society externally more attractive than Alice Cary. The engagement was broken, and Alice, concealing her sorrows, kept herself more closely at home and turned her attention more assiduously to her special labors. The story needs not to be fully detailed here. It has been told over and over again, ever since the world has had a literature.

Several years passed, and in 1857 Rufus Wilmot Griswold lay dying of a lingering disease in the Metropolis, in poverty and alone. His literary ventures and brought inadequte remuneration, and he had lived a life which it was not altogether pleasant to look back upon. But the sisters had made many friends, and been reasonably blessed by fortune. The injured woman forgot her wrongs, and forgave the past with a readiness characteristic of her sex. She came again to the bedside of the man who had so grievously deceived her, and watched with him day after day and week after week, as life slowly ebbed away. The sick-room was made cheerful with books, flowers and all necessary comforts, and to defray necessary expenses the money earned by days and nights of labor with the pen was freely lavished. At last death ended the sufferings of the false lover, and the grave closed over the secret of a woman's sorrow, now for the first time made public.

Escape of Vallandigham's Client.

The Dayton (Ohio) Journal of the 3d instant states that the fire bells rang an alarm in that city the preceding midnight, and it was found that seven prisoners had dug their way out of the County jail, among others McGenan, in whose defence Vallandigham lost his life recently. They effected their escape by tearing up a portion of the stone floor of one of the cells in the southeast corner of the prison, excavating a tunel into a cellar under the sheriff's residence. The cel from which the tunnel was made is only about eight feet from the cellar, but it must have required considerable labor to excavate the hole of sufficient size to enable the prisoners to crawl through. The earth from the excavation was thrown back into the cell. After reaching the cellar they made their exit through a window into the front yard of the jail, and succeeded in reaching the street before being discoverod. The alarm was at once given, and Sheriff Swadener, with several of the police force and others, started in pursuit of the fugitives, who scattered through the streets and alleys in the vicinity of the jail in various directions. The escape of any more of the inmates—ten of whom remained in the jail—was prevented by the immediate appearance of the turnkey, though several of them refused to avail themselves of the opportunity of attempting it.

The young colored men of Newbern have organized a reading society.

Life at the Watering Places.

A SARATOGA STORY.

"Seats for Whispering Lovers" Wanted.

One of the saddest discomforts to young lovers, newly-married people, and young gentleman who desire to get certain young ladies "on the string," is the absence of benches in the park. There is only one bench where two people can sit and talk in the whole inclosure. This bench is in a conspicuous location on the hill, commanding all the approaches to be sure, and so situated as to incur no very quick surprises on the part of the dog-in-the-manger pirates who spend their time watching handholding beaux, or susceptible bachelors, always on the point of proposing. Every lover in Saratoga knows where the double bench is situated. You will always see it occupied, morning, noon and night, while hovering around, within accessible distance, will be a half dozen couples waiting for the next chance to sit there. Yesterday I met an old Saratoga statistician, a crusty old bachelor, who, unseen, has notched this bench for thirteen years. He has the name of every young lady whose hand has ever been held by couples sitting on this bench, the number of kisses stolen or given away, and the names of the stealer and stealee. He showed me his record book. Great Heavens! What secrets were there. What a flutter it would cause in Congress Hall, I thought, to publish them.

"How many young ladies have allowed thair hands to be held willingly?" I asked of the statistician.

"Eleven hundred and fifty-two," he answered.

"How many unwillingly?"

"Three; but they had false hands."

"How many unmarried ladies have been kissed there?"

"Three hundred and ninety-one."

"How many married ladies have been kissed there willingly?"

"Two hundred and seventy six."

"Unwillingly?"

"Two—by their husbands."

"What gentleman have occupied this bench the most for the last ten year?"

The statistician now opened his book mysteriously, and I read the names W. H. C——, J. F——, Mr. H——, Mr. G——yes, F. I——, J. C——r L——stone, P——Z——ga, C——S——th, and twenty-two hundred others. What a record!

"How is the proper way to occupy this bench with a sweetheart?" I asked.

"Never tell!"

"N-e-v-e-r!"

"Well, saunter along with a large daily newspaper, spread it over your lap, holding it with one hand, while your sweetheart holds it with the other. Thus leaves to each a hand free under the paper. These hands will naturally seek each other, and then you can sit and defy detection from the most observing. Such cases I never watch. They defy detection."

Now, for the good of humanity, for the benefit of scolding husbands, loving brides, spooney lovers, and the great army of flirters at Saratoga, I plead for more benches in the park—more seats for two persons—more seats close together.

Look Before you Kick.

A minister in one of our orthodox churches, while on his way to preach a funeral sermon in the country, called to see one of his members, an old widow lady, who lived near the road he was traveling. The old lady had just been making sausages, and she felt proud of them,—they were so plump, round and sweet. Of course she insisted on the minister taking some of the links home to his family. He objected on account of not having his portmanteau with him. This objection was soon overruled, and the old lady, after wrapping them in a rag, carefully placed a bundle in either pocket of preacher's capacious great coat. Thus equipped, he started for the fun

NEW NORTH CAROLINA.

It is true that, chronologically speaking, North Carolina is an old State. She has thousands of acres that have for long, long years been yielding corn, wheat, oats, cotton, peas and potatoes, and yet so far as real substantial development and progress are concerned she is but a new State. Scientific agriculture, improved machinery, manufactures, railroads,—all these are but in their infancy in North Carolina. While other States, far less blessed by Nature in climate, soil and other advantages, have been improving their resources, we have been standing still, neglecting our opportunities, allowing our rich resources to lie undeveloped, moving slowly along in quiet contentment with the "sufficient to eat and wear" yielded by a partial cultivation of but a small portion of our lands. For it is true that long as our State has been settled there are still thousands on thousands of acres of forest that are yet to be brought under the husbandman's hand. And the soil of these vast tracts are as rich and productive as any on this continent.

Now not only should these forests be felled and new fields be subjected to cultivation, but the old fields should be made to undergo a renovation that will make three bushels of corn and wheat grow where but one is now produced. It is not enough for us—not enough for this State to merely raise a "living." This was the old policy. It must yield to the new. The people and the State must be made to realize that they owe something to the public good. This demands the utilization of every facility furnished by Nature for increasing the general prosperity. Just as our products are increased will trade increase. The more trade, the more money. And it's money we need to build up, develope and improve our North Carolina.

And for this we need immigration. Here is the land—cheap and fertile: here is the opportunities for industry and capital. Let them come. A new era is dawning. North Carolina is taking a "new departure" in favor of progress, "upward and onward." She welcomes the practical farmer, the skilful mechanic and the prudent business man of the North. Let them settle among us, and together we will make this one of the most prosperous States in the Union. It will make old North Carolina a more and more thriving and wealthy State.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS.

It appears from the monthly report of the Chief of the Bureau of Statistics of the Treasury Department that the imports for this year are averaging somewhat higher than last year. For the tenth month reported the imports amount to $434,683,677, while for the corresponding ten months of the preceding commercial year they were $381,717,355. During the last ten months the amount brought in American vessels was $126,152,325, and the amount brought in foreign bottoms $296,282,803. The balance was brought in cars and other land vehicles.

Turning to the statement of exports of domestic commodities from the United States to foreign ports, the increase is also found to be very considerable. Thus for the ten months the report covers, beginning with July 1, 1870, the exportation of purely domestic commodities amounted to $465,194,822, while for the same months of the year previous the amount was $419,076,355. Of the $465,194,822, for the last ten months, $149,033,143 went out in American vessels, and $311,935,949 was carried in foreign bottoms.

LOST ITS POWER.

The party lash was never cracked more fiercely than by the Democratic leaders in this State during the late canvas. It was used to the very extreme—even at the ballot box. By a pre arranged plan one of "the faithful" was selected to stand at each poll, with book and pencil, to "spot" every white man who dared to vote the Republican ticket. But it all did not avail. With all their straining and brow beating and intimidation they are routed "horse, foot and dragoons."

The people are beginning to think, and act, and vote for themselves. They are throwing off the tyranny that has so long awed them, and it will be found that the number who heretofore vigorously sneezed when JOE TURNER took snuff are rapidly decreasing. The Sentinel has lost its power. Its influence is waning. Demagogueism no longer rules. The party whip has lost its power.

Among other things the recent triumph in this State disposes of the Democratic charge that the Republican Party of North Carolina is composed exclusively of "carpet baggers" and "niggers." On a pretty careful canvas we find that there are not over fifteen hundred voters of Northern birth in the State: the Blacks are less than one third of the People, and yet the Democrats are beaten over ten thousand votes. This proves that at least Thirty Thousand native Whites voted with us. Next year the White vote will be largely increased. North Carolina is henceforth a Republican State.

There is a frightful famine in Persia. It is reported that twenty-seven thousand persons have died in Jaspahan, and the condition of the province of Mazanderan is still worse. The rice crop is a complete failure. The cattle plague, small-pox, typhus fever and cholera still prevail.

A GREAT SPEECH BY SPEAKER BLAINE.

Hon. JAMES G. BLAINE, Speaker of the House of Representatives, was serenaded at Saratoga, N. Y., on the 16th inst. We make the following extract from his speech on the occasion. It will amply repay a careful perusal. It contains food for the thoughtful and reflective:

The two great parties between whom the American people divide their sympathy and their support must be judged not by their professions, but by their acts where each is in authority. The Republicans are in full power at Washington: the Democrats bear undisputed sway in New York. I need I draw the picture which this brace of facts suggests to every intelligent mind? In Washington every dollar that can be saved above current expenses is faithfully applied to the reduction of the national debt. In New-York every dollar that can be raised or wrung from the groaning taxpayers above current expenses is faithfully applied to the benefit of a private ring of political speculators. In Washington we have witnessed with amazement and admiration the payment of our national debt at the rate of one hundred millions per annum. In New York we have seen with consternation and alarm the increase of the municipal debt at such a rate as would involve at no long period the bankruptcy and ruin even of that giganic Metropolis, with its immense resources and its fabulous wealth. It seems but yesterday that Gen. Grant was inaugurated, and yet in the brief period that has since elapsed two hundred and fifty millions of our debt have been paid, a sum equal to more than one-eighth of our bonded debt as it exists this hour,—and this payment, be it remembered, has been made while taxes were repealed that were yielding eighty millions per annum when Gen. Grant came into power. Look at New York City during the same period. Its bonded debt increased to such a mammoth extent that the authorities dare not confess the actual amount. Tax levies are all the while heaped up beyond the imagination of honest men, and a scale of corrupt expenditures maintained that challenges the credulity even of those who are best acquainted with the audacity of Tammany Hall. I do not desire to be understood as making a random reckless charge inculpating every Democrat in the land, and holding him responsible for the corruption in New York. I have too much respect for individual members of that party, and trust I may say that I have too many friends within the ranks of that party to permit me to make so unjust an accusation. But this I do say, and I address it especially to honest Democrats, that the source of power and the controlling guidance of that party are in just such hands as have been guilty of the gross frauds recently exposed in New York. Without the aid and leadership of Tammany it would be impossible for the Democrats to carry the State of New York, and without the State of New York their chances in the Presidential contest of 1872 is not worth reckoning, and they well know it. I go further, gentlemen, and aver that the power of Tammany with its money in the North and the power of terroism in the South are the weapons relied on by the Democratic leaders to carry the national contest next year, and if it were not for this we should have to-day absolute peace throughout the length and breadth of the land. Why, I ask, is there not as much supremacy of law, as much civil order, as thorough protection of life and property in the South to-day as there is in the North? Why is there more disturbance between the Potomac and the Rio Grande than there is between the Potomac and the St. Lawrence? I answer, simply because it is not the interest of the Democratic Party to have it so. I answer, simply because it is the interest of the Democratic Party that such a condition of affairs shall be maintained in the South as shall prevent a fair, full, unrestrained vote of the whole people. And I do not charge this responsibility wholly upon the Democratic Party in the Southern States. They are the immediate actors: but the responsible indorsers are in the North. If the Northern Democratic Party to-day, sincerely, honestly and earnestly willed it, there would be an end at once of Ku Klux outrages in every Southern State. Nay, gentlemen, as in the olden time, ten righteous men might have turned the wrath of God from the doomed City of the Plain, so, this day, and this hour I believe, I could name ten leading aspirants for the Presidential nomination of the Democracy, whose united and righteous appeals for peace in the South would produce peace in the South!

Last October, Hearth and Home passed into the hands of Messrs. Orange Judd & Co., of 245 Broadway, New York, the well known publishers of the American Agriculturist—a journal long without a rival in sterling value and circulation. The marked improvements then expected to appear in Hearth and Home have been fully realized, and it is now one of the choicest illustrated journal anywhere issued for the family circle—adapted to both the juvenile and adult people, and meeting the special wants of the housekeeper. Besides it supplies very useful chapters for the garden and farm, and an important news sheet, giving a valuable resume of the news for a week, up to the moment of issue. From $500 to $800 worth of very fine engravings beautify each weekly number. We notice now a still further mark of enterprise on the part of the publishers: they have secured the exclusive editorial services of Edward Eggleston, so widely and favorably known by his writings in Scribner's Monthly, and many other Magazines and Journals, and especially as the chief superintending Editor of the New York Independent for some time past. With this notable addition to the previously large and strong editorial force, Hearth and Home can not fail to merit and command a prominent place in every household, in city, village, and country. Specimen copies can doubtless be obtained of the publishers, as above. Terms only $3 a year. Single numbers 8 cents. Hearth and Home and American Agriculturist together, $4 a year. Better add one or both of them to your supply of reading: they are each worth infinitely more than the small cost.

At the late election we carried every Congressional District except one—the Sixth. Let our friends be wise next year and nominate good men, and we'll carry the same districts for Congress. It can be done.

His Excellency Gov. CALDWELL has appointed Capt. JOHN C. GORMAN, late of the Telegram, Adjutant General of the State, with the rank of Brigadier General.

The number of copies of newspapers printed daily in Philadelphia is 240,000.

OUR NATIONAL RESOURCES.

The development of the resources and industries of the country since the beginning of Republican rule has been vastly greater than at any previous corresponding length of time in its history. And this under the disadvantage of a gigantic war for the first half of the partys administration, that taxed Government and people to the utmost, and left burdens that are yet weights to progress to some degree.

If the party had had the country under advantageous circumstances, who can calculate the development that would have followed the adoption of its policy. The progress for the next five years, supposing no interruption to occur in the hold of the party on the Government, will show what can be done. It will undoubtedly be much greater than during the past five, especially in the direction of manufactures, which have not fully kept pace with the other improvements. They must follow other enterprizes, waiting for railroads and a certain development of the agricultural resources, at least, before they can be established.

The career of prosperity that is now before the country is unexampled in the history of nations. It is the result of a wise governmental policy, and so long as it is maintained we may expect prosperity to continue.

The Old North State, at Salisbury, of last week says:

Judge Brooks is holding a special term of the U. S. District Court at this place this week. We learn that there are a good many cases of violation of the revenue laws on the criminal docket, and some civil cases of importance. His Honor gives entire satisfaction to the bar, and all other parties having business in his court. What a relief it would be to our people if all the State Judges wore the Judicial ermine as worthily as Judge Brooks.

The North Carolina victory is the first result of the reorganization of the Republican party in the South, by which a triumph next year is to be assured.—Northern Exchange.

The result of the victory we achieved on the 3rd inst., is thus understood and felt all over the Union. No wonder the Ku Klux Democracy feel despondent, and well may the friends of peace, law and good government feel assured confidence as to the future.

We learn that Hon. Jno. W. NORWOOD, of Orange, has been selected to deliver the annual address before the State Agricultural Society at the next Fair.

THE PHRENOLOGICAL JOURNAL.—This Journal is always interesting, but the September number, just received, is particularly so. In proof-read the following suggestive titles from the table of contents:—Hon. John A. Bingham, M. C.: Under the Surface, or Universal Law; Miss Burdett, the lady philanthropist; E. H. Rulloff, the philological murderer; Life in a head only, a remarkably case of paralysis; Human Locomotion, or How we Stand, Walk, or Run; Have Children no Rights? A New Social Proposition; Hunting a Servant; Social Reform, where it should begin; Rev. Samuel J. May, D. D.; The Powder and the Bullet; Geological History of Man; Love's Victory—a poem; More of the Marvelous. Most of the articles named are illustrated, some elaborately. We confess ourselves highly pleased with this number, and commend it to public favor generally. Price, 30 cents. $3 a year. Address, S. R. Wells, Publisher, 389 Broadway, New York.

Europe

AUGUST 16.—Four hundred lives have been lost and several vessels wrecked by a typhoon in Japan. The negotiations for the immediate withdrawal of the Germans from France have failed. The French Assembly will discuss the subject of the presidential term on Saturday. Napoleon has declined an address. Minister Schenck has gone to the Continent. The Dublin Corporation has passed a resolution expressing sorrow and horror at the Phœnix Park affair. The election returns from Mexico are more favorable for Juarez. The Marquis of Lorne and the Princess Louise will shortly take up their residence in Ottawa, Canada.

AUGUST 17.—The Czar has denied the assertion that a treaty of alliance exists between Russia and Germany. Twenty-two deaths from cholera occurred in Konigsberg, Prussia, on the 14th inst. It is rumored that the Duke d'Aumale has refused the Presidency of France. An immense meeting has been held in Ireland in favor of home rule.

AUGUST 18.—Count Louis Frederick Menabrea has been appointed Italian arbitrator in the case of the Alabama claims. Prince Gortschakoff has given a discouraging reply to the deputation of the Evangelical Alliance, and refused to receive the memorials. The Election Committee of the French Assembly has reported adversely to the motion to confer the Presidency on M. Thiers for three years. A motion to sustain the Government in defending the Dublin police was passed by the Commons. The cholera is decreasing in Poland. The Pope's encyclical is published.

AUGUST 19.—M. Thiers's chance for the Presidency seems to be improving. Collisions between the Germans and French in France are reported. Russia and Prussia are said to be making great military preparations. The cholera is spreading in Germany. Spain has consented to the extradition of Communists found on her territory. Napoleon has given a fete at Chiselhurst.

AUGUST 21.—M. Staempfli, an ex-President of the Swiss Confederation, is said to have been appointed arbiter under the Treaty of Washington. The argument for the prosecution in the Commune trials will begin to-day. A case of cholera is reported in Paris. The Germans are withdrawing from the fortifications.

A Buffalo cattle drover, who had sold all his property, was robbed on Saturday last of the entire proceeds, $2,800 in bank bills, at the depot in Ingersoll, Canada, whither he had gone, intending to settle there permanently. The robbery was committed on the depot platform while a picnic crowd were waiting for a train, and he thinks it was done by two men who followed him from Buffalo, and who saw the contents of his pocket-book on the race-track in that city a few days ago. He noticed the men watching him there, and before the robbery he saw them in Ingersoll. He has returned to Buffalo to begin life again at his former occupation.

General Summary

Newbern has two watermelons joined together in Siamese twin fashion.

Julius W. Wright, formerly of Wilmington, has become editor of the Charlotte Observer.

There is a lady 60 years of age in Wilmington who has never seen a railroad or locomotive.

The Waverly House and thirty other buildings were burnt at Williamsport, Pa., on the 21st.

A young man in Portland, Me., cut off two of his toes that he might wear a small boot.

New Hanover has the largest negro population of any county in the State. The number is put down at 16,199.

A Terre Haute man refused to pay for the funeral notice of his mother-in-law. Most men would pay it with pleasure.

In order to keep up with the progress of the age, Time has abandoned the scythe and hour glass, and purchased a mowing-machine and a watch.

It is said that Gen. Morgan is Senator Thurman's favorite for United States Senator from Ohio, in case the Democrats obtain control of the Legislature.

Mr. T. S. Armistead, the oldest native citizen of Plymouth, and a highly respected and influential citizen of that place, died on the 13th inst, in the 69th year of his age.

A Salt Lake City paper says the climate there is peculiarly trying to the hair. Inferences from this statement implicating the Mormon wives would doubtless be unfair.

The editor of the Washington Express has had the ague so bad for the past two weeks that he has shaken about half of his reading matter into pi. Poor fellow!

The Williamston Spectator says: That a gentleman near Jamesville has already realized the sum of one hundred dollars, from the watermelons raised on two acres of land, and that he will probably get about fifteen dollars more.

It is said that Henry Berry Lowry accompanied by five or six of his gang, went to the house of John McNair, Esq., near Shoe Heel, on last Saturday night, and desired him to notify the authorities of Lumberton that he would not hereafter molest any one in Robeson county, provided he was let alone.

"A young lady," in a rural "personal," informs "a certain young man, that the next time he desires to gaze upon her forty-five mortal minutes, without winking his eyes, she will consider herself highly favored if he will close his mouth and not sit there like a young robin awaiting the parent bird."

Two masked burglars entered the residence of Hon. Alexander G. Gattell, at Merchantville, N. J., on Thursday night, while the male members of the family were absent, and pointing a pistol at the ladies, ordered them to be silent, and then robbed the house of watches, other jewelry and some money. The robbers afterward broke into the railway station, and carried away everything valuable.

There was a fine conjunction of longevities in Boston the other day. Father Cleveland, aged 100 years, made a call upon Mr. James P. Rogers, aged 102 years. The old clergyman read to the somewhat older layman the XXXIXth Psalm, after which there was prayer, and Mr. C. gave a poetical composition of his own to Mr. R. When one hears of these instances of long years, it is a little mortifying to consider the low average of human life. Hardly are our teeth set on edge by the sour grapes devoured by our grandfathers, before we are relieved from that and all other disagreeable sensations.

Daniel Mercer, though only 41, has 18 children, and monopolizes all the seats in a village school at Liberty, Ohio. Some of his neighbors insist that they will either have more school-room to reduce the number of the Mercers.

Gov. Walker, of Virginia, has refused to pardon Ex-Mayor Chahoon, of Richmond, and will take no action in the premises until the matter is finally disposed of by the Courts. The Court of Appeals will have the case before it at the coming Fall Term to be held in Richmond.

They have a severe attack of railroad fever at Puget Sound. One of the papers closes a long article with: "Then blow ye winds! put your shoulders to the wheel, ye steam gods! and hasten on the time for which we are looking, longing, dying!"

The Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser stakes its reputation for truth on the statement that a Mrs. Tuck, now living in Halifax County, Va., year before last, gave birth to three boys at a time, and week before last to four boys, and that she is now "doing well."

What whisky may do is shown by the St. Louis Democrat, which describes how a Deputy United States Marshal got drunk, lost a prisoner, was himself arrested by the Police, was dismissed by the Marshal, was put off a train of cars, and was run over and killed, all in one day.

Mr. Frederick Herold, editor of a German illustrated paper published in St. Louis, died in that city of diphtheria on Friday, at the age of twenty-eight year. He was a Bavarian by birth, and his father is at this time Professor of Greek and Latin of the University of Nuremburg, Bavaria.

At a recent political meeting in Sacramento, Cal., Judge A. Henly made a brief address, in which he said, in effect, that the Democratic Party had departed so far from the right that he could no longer affiliate with it, and he should hereafter give in his hearty allegiance to the Republican Party.

A school-master in Bridgeport, Conn., who asked a small pupil of what the surface of the earth consists, and was promptly answered, "land and water," varied the question slightly, that the fact might be impressed on the boy's mind, and asked "What then do land and water make?"—to which came the immediate response, "Mud."

Chairman Wallace, of the Pennsylvania Democratic State Central Committee, is sending out a circular to the faithful, calling upon them to wake up, and urging them to be earnest and active in the work of the campaign. Mr. Wallace has his eye on the United States Senate. And the party remains just as inharmonious as before.

John Hopkins, a Maryland Quaker, began life in Baltimore as a small grocer, and, by industry, has brought himself to be the richest man south of Mason and Dixon's line. He is now the largest stockholder in the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, worth $8,000,000, much of which he has given to endow the John Hopkins University, on the outskirts of Baltimore City. Mr. Hopkins is a plain, aged gentleman, still diligent and daily in business, and was one of the projectors and endowers of the line of iron steamships between Baltimore and Bremen.

A Canadian sailor is experiencing the woe of having an impulsive woman as a wife, and the woe of being impulsive. He came home from sea the other day, bringing but $15. She thought he should have brought more; and from mild remonstrances and gentle upbraiding they rapidly grew angry, finally coming to blows, and then and there separating "forever." It turned out that the man had placed $40 in the savings bank, but felt called upon to defend himself first against the angry words of his wife and her baseless charges before explaining what he had done with the money.

Local and Personal.

☞ Dr. WM H. FULLER has returned from New York.

☞ The Corn crop in this section will be a good one, and the Cotton is looking well.

☞ Our Devil thinks it is surprising that the manners of editors are not spoiled, since they receive so many evil communications.

☞ Since the election our Northern circulation is again increasing. We hear of numbers expecting to visit us this fall.

☞ A cotemporary says that the editor who published a paper that made nobody mad has been dead a great many years, and he was a fool any way.

☞ The "dull season" is certainly here. It will continue for some weeks yet. Then the fall trade will open when livelier times are anticipated.

☞ WALTER CLARK, Esq., will accept our thanks for copies of Salt Lake City papers. He is making a tour through the Pacific slope.

☞ Our market continues to be overstocked with Peaches. The crop in this section has been large and most of the Peaches very fine.

☞ The work on the new Light House below Nag's Head is going on quite rapidly. The lumber is being furnished by the Land and Lumber Company of this place.

☞ It is a settled fact that more men grow old from having nothing to do than from over work. The running machine will keep bright for years; the idle machine will soon run out.

☞ Don't croak, on more. That's the fever which brings about reform. Too many of our people are apt to look on the dark side. It's the wrong side to look on altogether.

☞ Let the good work go on—paving the Streets. Especially should such thoroughfares as Main and Road Streets be paved without delay. Let no excuse prevent it.

☞ Quite an Excursion party went to Nag's Head on the Steamer Hertford on Saturday, and returned on Tuesday. The Elizabeth City Band accompanied the party.

☞ Those of our subscribers desiring to avail themselves of our advance rate will take notice that to do so they must pay within the first three months—that is before the first of October. Unless paid before that date Two dollars and fifty cents will be charged.

☞ Why is it that thistles and other noxious weeds are suffered to grow up and run to seed on so many of the vacant lots within the Corporation limits. We would suggest to the City Fathers the propriety of a special ordinance requiring their removal.

☞ Our City is more healthy than it has been for years at this season. The Doctors complain that they have but little to do, and our Druggists inform us that they are putting up fewer prescriptions than usual. An encouraging indication.

☞ "A young Gent" wishes us to advise the young ladies not to put too much oil on their hair, and gives as a reason "it's apt to spoil, not only the lappel of the coat but the vest also." We are led to infer from this that his coat and vest have suffered some from his "courting experience." Young ladies take pity on him.

☞ We believe in the enforcement of the laws. There is a "cattle law" in Elizabeth City, and yet it is allowed to remain a nullity. Not a night but cattle are seen on several of our prominent streets, and the pavements the next morning are covered with offensive nuisances. It is time they were abated.

☞ On Saturday last the sailing vessel "Marion," Capt. WM. H. LEPPERT, of Boston, bound to Charleston from Liverpool, come ashore on the Beach a short distance below Nag's Head. She was loaded with iron, crockery, porter etc. She will not prove a total wreck. The vessel was built in 1868, and was 365 tons burden.

☞ Among the enterprizes now agitated is a new Pier at Nag's Head. This is needed. It should be made strong, should extend out to the Steamer landing, and should be wide enough for all practical purposes. Its length longitudinally should be about 1600 feet, with a lateral section not less than 100 feet, making an elongated letter T. It is estimated that such a structure will cost about Three Thousand Dollars. By proper effort the money can be raised.

☞ Several benevolent ladies of Elizabeth City have inaugurated an enterprize which is laudable and ought to be encouraged—that of purchasing material and having it made up into garments by the poor and indigent women of this place, selling the same at cost to pay for the material and the making up. The object is to give employment to the really needy. The garments are left on sale at MRS. LABOYTEAUX's, ZENAS FEARING's and B. F. KEATON's. Applications for work or further particulars should be made of Mrs. C. C. GREEN at her residence on Road Street.

☞ We learn from a private letter that His Honor Judge BROOKS, Mr. STARBUCK and other officers of the Federal Court were attacked near the Depot at Salisbury on Sunday last by some miscreants who threatened their lives. The assailants were repulsed and captured. We have not learned the particulars.

☞ To the suggestion of some of our enthusiastic friends to get up a grand "Jollification" over the election we have returned an emphatic No. Instead of unseemly demonstrations over our fallen foes we advise that our Republican friends everywhere so conduct themselves as to enable us to reap the practical advantages of the great triumph of Right over Wrong. Let us prove to them that our great object is to promote the best interests of the State, securing the peace and order that cannot fail to bring prosperity to her people.

☞ We wish it distinctly understood that in all the strictures or remarks we have made or may hereafter make, they are not intended to be personal in the offensive meaning of that term. There are a number of gentlemen in this community who are our political opponents and whose political conduct we are in duty bound to condemn, and yet to them personally we entertain the very highest respect and will ever take as much pleasure in serving them or doing them a favor as for the warmest political friend we have. If a man is a gentleman we'll recognize and appreciate it despite his politics. Away with the spirit that would alienate men socially because of an honest difference in political sentiment.

☞ A northern correspondent asks whether we have any Mountains in North Carolina? Of course we have. The Western part of the State is mountainous, some portions of it—the Black Mountain being the highest land in the United States, east of the Rocky Mountains. This Mountain is a spur of the Blue Ridge, extending, in the form of a crescent, about twenty miles. It contains several peaks, each of which are 6,000 feet above the level of the sea. One of these Clingman's Peak, is 6,941 feet high. Mount Mitchell is also a peak of the Black Mountain. White Top, Eastern part of the State is level, the Western high being crossed by ridges of the great Appalachian or Alleghany range of Mountains.

☞ There is a class of persons who imagine they are doing very judiciously by advertising through the medium of circulars. They search a few thousand through the City announcing their business, and await the result, fully convinced that in so doing they have taken all necessary preliminaries to success. Various circulars are almost daily to be found on the door steps and entry ways of respectable houses. Their fate is generally that they are either thrown into the street by the indignant servant girl who answers the bell, or summarily pitched aside by the man of the house who finds them when he returns home and who desires no suggestions of new methods of lightening his purse. The use of circulars may, in certain limited cases, answer every purpose; but the vast majority of those who have made money by advertising have found that the columns of a newspaper are the best and surest, and in the end the cheapest medium of communication between the business world and the public.

☞ While there is a manifest improvement this season on the matter of Cleanliness in the town there is still room for greater care and personal attention in abating out door public nuisances that tend to the generating of disease. This is a thing in which every citizen is personally interested, and yet too many neglect it. Those who allow their residences to become uncleanly, their back yards to accumulate garbage and their stables to fill up with offensive material are simply breeding pestilence for themselves and neighbors. The Health officer may see that the streets and alleys and commons are kept cleanly, and that proper sewerage is provided in districts where needed, but that will not avail unless citizens co-operate with him and maintain the cleanliness and purity of their domiciles. And when we remember that to the laboring classes is the advantage of health even greater than to the wealthy—for their labor is their capital, and without health they cannot work—we wonder more at their neglect in this respect than if the rich should be indifferent to their homes. Therefore, particularly to the working people of Elizabeth City, the NORTH CAROLINIAN would say that too much care cannot be used in avoiding the cause which renders one susceptible to the influences producing disease at this season of the year. Every condition of foul air and the exhalations of poisonous gases from decaying substances on or about your dwellings must be remedied in the most thorough manner and the purity maintained, otherwise sickness in some form may be expected as the consequence of such neglect.

Chief pillers of the town—our Druggist. The turn of the tied—divorces. Two things more pleasant to give than received—advice and medicine. The wish of the truant school boy—"I wish I were a fountain, for then I could always play." The difference between a fisherman and a lazy School boy—the one baits his hook, and the other hates his book. Going up—the price of bacon. The latest things out—lovers by moonlight. An iron wedding—marrying a blacksmith. A linnen wedding—marrying a laundress. A round sum—$o. Rejected lays—bad eggs. An up-train—a short skirt. A rooted sorrow—the tooth ache. Growing bigger and bigger—the sweet potatoes. Difficult punctuation—putting a stop to a gossip's tongue. Beware—of stale fruit. Honor's most secret enemy—envy. Still improving his property—our go-a-head friend S. S. Fowler on Water Street. Wanted—a boot for the foot of the stairs.

☞ We have but one answer to make to the worse than ridiculous proposition made us by an old fogy Virginia correspondent. It is in the words of a famous decision once made by a Judge in Illinois that "by the law of the State every man has a constitutional right to make a fool of himself." But we do not think it claimed in any State, "ole Virginny" not excepted, that the constitution gives a man the right to become a Knave.

Business Locals.

The Nag's Head Season is now in successful flow—the rush to that delightful summer resort increasing. The "Alexina House" is well patronized, and no effort is spared to make all the guests comfortable. Those who never went are going, and those who have been there are going again. All are having a good time. Remember, the Boat goes down on every Thursday and Saturday.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.—In making remittances for subscriptions or advertising, always when practicable send drafts or checks or postoffice orders. When these cannot be procured, send the money, but always in a registered letter. We wish it distinctly understood that we will not be responsible for money lost in its transmission to us by mail, unless it is in a duly registered letter.

SPECIAL.

Those of our Subscribers knowing themselves to be in arrears are requested at once to make their remittances. We cannot afford to furnish the public with reading matter free of charge.

The Fishermen of North Carolina will find something to interest them in our advertising columns from the American Twine Company, Boston, Mass.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

DEBILITY AND EMACIATION.—Both result from the lack of ability to convert the food into nutriment necessary for them, for those suffering from these alarming symptoms to immediately resort to a remedy that will strengthen the stomach and digestive organs, as soon as this desirable object has been accomplished the health improves, and the patient resumes his usual personal appearance. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have attained a world-wide popularity in such cases, and have been proven the best and safest means of removing constipation, toning the stomach, giving energy to the liver, and relieving every symptom of nervousness and depression of spirits. Its cheering and beneficial effects are highly spoken of by thousands, who owe to it their restoration to health. No restorative in the annals of medicine has attained the same popularity in the short space of time it has been before the public, or has won the high endorsements accorded to this excellent tonic. Many other preparations, purporting to be correctives and restoratives, have been introduced and have perished one by one, while the popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters continues to increase, and is now recognized as a standard household medicine. The success which attends the use of the Bitters evinces at once its virtues in all cases of debility and disease of the stomach. Certificates, almost without number, have been published, attesting its truly miraculous power in removing those painful diseases. And at this time it seems idle to do more than call attention to the great remedy of the age, in order to awaken public attention to its excellence. It is the only preparation of the kind that is reliable in all cases, and it is therefore worthy of the consideration of the afflicted.

WHAT IS IT?
It is a sure and perfect remedy for all diseases of the Liver and Spleen, Enlargement or Obstruction of Intestines, Urinary, Uterine, or Abdominal Organs, Poverty or want of Blood, Intermittent or Remittent Fevers, Inflammation of the Liver, Dropsy, Sluggish Circulation of the Blood, Abscesses, Tumors, Jaundice, Scrofula, Dyspepsia, Ague & Fever or their concomitants.
Dr. Wells having become aware of the extraordinary medicinal properties of the South American Plant, called sent a special commission to that country to procure it in its native purity, and having found its wonderful curative properties to even exceed the anticipations formed by its great reputation, has concluded to offer it to the public, and is happy to state that he has perfected arrangements for a regular monthly supply of this wonderful Plant. He has spent much time experimenting and investigating as to the most efficient preparation from it, for popular use, and has for some time used in his own practice with most happy results the effectual medicine now presented to the public as
DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA
and he confidently recommends it to every family as a household remedy which should be freely taken as a Blood Purifier in all derangements of the system and to animate and fortify all weak and Lymphatic temperaments.

AGRICULTURAL, HORTICULTURAL AND DOMESTIC MATTERS.

Making Good Cider.

Cider that is really good is almost a rarity, and yet a rich, pure quality may be obtained by an orchardist who will exercise care in the preparing of fruit and the expressing of the juice. It is a custom very common to scrape together the refuse of the orchard, including rotten fruit, dirt, leaves, etc., and work up the whole picking together. Good cider cannot be obtained in this way, any more than good wine can be made by working up half rotten and filthy grapes.

Apples should be gathered, as far as soundness and cleanliness are concerned, with as much care as for winter storing. They are better for lying awhile in some open shed, where not exposed to the frost, as perfectly ripened fruit makes the best cider. If it is possible, use no straw in pressing, as all foreign substances detract from the rich flavor of the liquid, and use no water unless it be in the last pressing which may be designed for vinegar. If high color is desired, it may be obtained by allowing the juice to lie in the pomace before pressing. By the exposure the saccharine matter takes up oxygen, and the same change is made in color as sugar undergoes in a refinery, and if long continued, decomposition take place, in which sugar is resolved into carbonic acid gas and alcohol, the cider becoming sour or hard.

BRUISES ON FURNITURE.—Wet the part with warm water; double a piece of brown paper five or six times, soak in the warm water, and lay it on the place; apply on that a warm, but not hot, flat-iron till the moisture is evaporated. If the bruise be not gone, repeat the process. After two or three applications the dent or bruise will be raised to the surface. If the bruse be small, merely soak it with warm water, and hold a red-hot iron near the surface, keeping the surface continually wet—the bruise will soon disappear.

TO KEEK FLIES OFF HORSES.— A correspondent of the Lycoming (Pa.) Gazette vouches for the efficacy of carbolic acid as a "shoo fly:"—"Take two or three ounces of crude carbolic acid (which can be obtained at a drug store for a few pennies,) put it in a quart bottle and fill up with water, then take up about one large spoonful of this liquor to a half pint of water and sponge the horse over lightly before going out, and the flies will part company with him very quickly. A small quantity of the same liquor sprinkled in the stalls will drive the flies from the stable."

TOMATO CHOWDER.—Soak a peck of green tomatoes twenty-four hours in salt water; chop them quite fine in the chopping-bowl, adding three or four onions; mix with them a teacupful of white mustard seed; scald sufficient in good vinegar to cover them, spicing it with pepper corns, cloves and allspice, tied loosely in a thin muslin bag; pour the vinegar upon the tomatoes, tie up the mouth of the jars in which it is put away.

To Remove Warts from the Hand.—Purchase at the chemists a dime's worth of spirits of hartshorn; bathe the warts or, if very numerous, that portion of the hands where the warts are, with a small portion of the spirits of hartshorn each night and morning for about three weeks, not washing the hands immediately after. The use of it will not cause any pain unless it comes in contact with a cut or bruise. A cure is usually effected in about three weeks.

REMEDY FOR CORNS.—The same treatment for corns is one of the most effectual remedies ever tried, paring the corn a little daily as the surface of each corn gets hard, being careful not to pare so close as to draw blood or to make them tender. Keep the vial containing the spirits well corked, as it soon evaporates and loses its powerful virtue.—E. Brighton, Ill.

The Legislature of Georgia is to be asked to protect the mocking-birds. It is asserted that now the young birds are taken from the nests as soon as found and sent to the North or to Europe, and that a sensible diminution in the number of these warblers is noted.

The Supreme Court of California has decided that a postponement should have been granted in a case where it was shown that the counsel for the defendant was prevented from attending by dangerous illness in his family. The case in point having resulted in favor of the plaintiff, and judgment of the Court below was reversed and a new trial ordered.

Mr. John Kerry Sullivan, shoe-maker, of Buffalo, became the happy father of two daughters and a son on Wednesday morning: mother and children are doing well.

Convenient Home Directions.

The following may be convenient as well as interesting to many of our readers:

To Prevent Lamps from Smoking.—Lay the lamp-wicks in vinegar for an hour, and dry them well before they are used.

To Prevent Rats from Gnawing Harness.—Mix with the oil applied a little cayenne pepper, say a tea-spoonful to the quart.

To Cut Glass.—Any hard steel tool (says the Boston Journal of Chemistry) will cut glass with great facility when kept freely wet with camphor dissolved in turpentine. The ragged edges of glass vessels may also be thus easily smoothed by a flat file.

To Cool a Room. Wet a cloth of any size, the larger the better, and suspend it in the room. Let the ventilation be good, and the temperature will sink from ten to twenty degrees in less than an hour.

To Remove Glass Stoppers.—When the stopper of a glass decanter is too tight, a cloth wet with hot water and applied to the neck will cause the glass to expand, and the stopper may be removed. In phials the warmth of the hand may be sufficient.

To Improve Gilding.—Mix a gill of water with two ounces of purified nitre, one ounce of alum, one ounce of common salt; lay this over gilt articles with a brush, and their color will be much improved.

To Prevent Glue from Smelling Badly.—A tea-spoonful of saltpetre added to a large pot full of glue will effectually prevent it from smelling bad; besides, it causes it to dry faster and harder than it would without it.

To give a Gloss to Leather.—Apply the white of eggs, beaten up with an equal quantity of cold water, a little sugar candy being added. It is perfectly transparent, dries in a few minutes, and is not rendered sticky by a hot hand, nor affected by the weather.

Cleaning Tin Ware.—An experienced house-keeper says the best thing for cleaning tin ware is common soda. She gives the following directions: "Dampen a cloth and dip in soda and rub the ware briskly, after which wipe dry. Any blackened ware can be made to look as well as new."

DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE

OF VALUABLE

NORTH CAROLINA LANDS,

FOR SALE BY

GEORGE D. POOL.

Real Estate Agent,

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

In presenting my list of lands and other properties for sale, I would say that no section of the United States offers such inducements for capitalists and emigrants, as this section of North Carolina. In longevity and healthfulness, it will compare favorably with any where; and in easy and cheap transportation of products to market, in pleasantness of climate, in the sociability of the people, in great fertility, and durability of soil, no section can equal it.

A railroad will soon be built to Weldon, putting this place in direct communication by Rail, with the whole United States. This, together with our great fishing, farming and manufacturing interests, and certain early completion of already projected works of improvement for putting in nearer, cheaper and easier communication with the Ocean, will render this one of the most important commercial, and manufacturing points on the Southern country.

A Steam Saw and Grist Mill in the town of Nixonton 8 miles from E. City. This Mill has a fine wharf and store attached on deep navigable water, the engine is 40 horse power, and all in good order. It is one of the finest locations to be found any where for custom work, and for getting good saw logs easily and cheaply. Price $4,000 cash.

Adjoining the mill property is 40 acres of fine land on the River, with three houses, all for $1200. Near the same is a good two story dwelling and 13 acres of land for $2,000, and a good one story dwelling, with one acre of land for $300.

Also two fine farms in Pasquotank county, 10 miles from E. City, within half mile of church, school house and post office. One tract contains about 400 acres, with fair buildings and mostly cleared, and the other contains 300 acres, with good two story dwelling, large barn, and other outhouses, both are offered at $20 per acre, one third cash, balance in one and two years.

Also one other tract in Pasquotank county, containing 146 acres, within one mile of the town with fine buildings, mostly cleared and in cultivation. Price $25 per acre, one half cash, balance in 12 months.

A valuable site for a hotel at Nag's Head, 40 miles from Elizabeth City, and 50 miles from Edenton. This is situated immediately on the Ocean, and is a famous Summer resort for invalids, and those seeking health, comfort, and amusements during the summer months. It is in direct communication by steamboats and railroad with all parts of North Carolina, Virginia, and the North; and is equal in natural advantages to Newport, or Cape May. Visitors flock to this famous summer resort by hundreds and thousands, and a large amount of money can be made by a hotel. A charter has been obtained from the Legislature of N. C., for a joint stock company to build the hotel. There is now an old hotel on the spot, which could be cheaply repaired and bought for $3,000. For a man or a company, having some capital, this is one of the finest chances to make money at hotel keeping to be found anywhere. The early attention of the public is invited to this property.

A fine steam saw and grist mill at Hertford, the county seat of Perquimans County, N. C., 18 miles from Elizabeth City. This mill has a fifty horse power engine, now in good running, two pairs of best French burr stones, and two upright saws. The house has a brick basement, and the building is large and in good order. There is one and a half acres of land belonging to this property, and a good two story dwelling, and other out-houses. The section of country adjacent abounds in the finest yellow pine, cypress, ash, poplar, and other valuable timber. This property originally cost $15,000, and is now offered at forced sale for the low price of $8,500, $7,00, cash, and the balance in six equal instalments, six months apart each with interest.

A fine farm and fishery in same county. The farm contains 400 acres of the finest land, lies immediately on Albemarle Sound where the water is 12 miles wide, and 18 to 20 feet deep, has got buildings, and fine neighborhood. The fishery is on the farm and goes with it. It has a new seine 2,500 yards long, and all the necessary boats, buildings, &c., (which cost over $15,000 two years ago.) The fishery alone, of a good season, will make from 5 to $10,000 profit to the owner. This property is offered at forced sale for the low price of $20,000, $7,000 cash, balance on easy times.

A store at South Mills, in Camden county, 20 miles from E. City, and 20 miles from Norfolk, lying on the canal where steamers pass daily. A fine chance for merchandize. Store is large with dwelling above containing six rooms, is in first rate order, has office, kitchen, dairy, and other necessary outhouses. Goods to the amt. of $50,000 per annum can be sold here, and at large profits. A splended stand for a country retail store. Price $2,500—one third cash, balance in one and two years.

A valuable tract of land in Camden county, at South Mills, on the Dismal Swamp Canal, lying on the canal for two miles, containing over 900 acres of land—two-thirds cleared, and in a fine state of cultivation, with good buildings, &c., balance in valuable timber. Price $12,000, one-third cash, balance in one and two years, interest from January, 1871. This is a valuable farm for corn, wheat, and vegetables, and being midway between Elizabeth City and Norfolk, and located where steamers pass by the door daily, is a desirable and cheap property.

A fine farm of 600 acres within six miles of E. City, one mile from navigable water, and the best cotton farm in the State. It is also well adapted to raising corn and wheat. This farm has a splended two-story dwelling upon it, large barn, large number of outhouses, by splended trees and shrubbery, is in a strong Union neighborhood, and altogether the most desirable place in the county. A little over one-half of this land is cleared, and the balance is covered with the finest yellow pine, poplar, ash and other timber. Price $30 per acre—one-third cash, balance in one and two years with interest. Title reserved.

Sixteen houses and lots in Elizabeth City, with good dwellings, out-houses, &c. Prices and terms reasonable.

A valuable farm in Perquimans county, N. C. near navigable water. Has a fine dwelling-house with ten rooms, in splended order, with splended barns and stables—all in first rate order. The farm is very productive in corn, oats, wheat, cotton and clover. It is one of the finest farms in the State and is now in good cultivation, contains 585 acres of land, about three-fourths cleared and under cultivation. Price $10,000, one-third cash January 1, next, balance in two equal annual instalments with interest at the rate of six per cent.

A farm of 370 acres 8 miles from town by water, and 12 miles by land, is offered for sale for $10,000 in easy payments. This tract of land lies immediately on the River which is 4 miles wide and washes the farm its whole length on one side, and a branch of the River one mile wide, binds it on one end. The land is well adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, peas, &c., lies high and dry, and is susceptible of the highest improvement. Fronting and looking over, as it does, two large sheets of navigable water, where steamers and sailing vessels are constantly passing, carrying freight and passengers to all parts of the country, its location and surroundings, are of the most fascinating and desirable character. There is a fishery on it ready for working a seine 2,500 yards long, and which commands a portion of both streams of water, and can be made immensely profitable. The price charged is low, and the purchase a very desirable one. The buildings consist of a good two-story dwelling and out-houses.

A tract of valuable land, containing 356 acres, with fine two story dwelling containing 9 rooms and cook-room. Servant's house with 3 rooms, large barns and stables, all necessary and convenient out-houses, 3 tenant-houses near town, and immediately on the River. About 100 acres of this land is in fine wood and timber, balance in a fine state of cultivation. It has 8,000 grape vines one year old, 3,500 peach, apple and dwarf pear trees, five acres in strawberries which yielded an immence profit this year, ten acres in Lawton and other rare varieties of black-berries, 15 to 20,000 young peach trees with other choice fruits too numerous to mention. This farm has a public road on one side, and the River on the other, where strangers come daily to the landings to receive the fruits and vegetables, and carry them down to Norfolk, Baltimore, Phila., or New York. The land is finely adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, and all other field crops.

The owner of this farm offers to sell in tracts, to suit purchasers, say in 50 to 100 acre tracts, and at prices ranging from 35 to $80 per acre, according to location, buildings, &c.

There is also on this farm a fine fishery, where a seine 1,000 yards long, and 20 feet deep is hauled every Spring. Herring, Shad, Rock-fish, Sturgeon and other valuable fish, are caught by thousands at every draw of the seine. And the profits are frequently large. This fishery of itself is worth nearly as much as is charged for the whole property. The terms will be liberal. This is probably the finest opportunity offered any where for a profitable investment.

☞ Fishery has an office, and two houses for hands besides fish house. Then some 500 to 1,000 loads of best fish manure on hand, besides over 5,000 loads of compost made ready for use. This goes with the farm.

A desirable house and lot in the town of Elizabeth City on the corner of two principal streets, the principal one, and situated in the best business locality in the town. The lot contains about two acres of land, and the buildings consist of a fair dwelling three stories high, containing eight rooms, all in good order, another two story building with four rooms and pantries, dairy, smokehouses, stables, &c. The dwelling has a good cellar under it. There is room on the front lot to erect two good stores, and they would occupy the best stand in the town for merchandize.

BONE DUST.—

The subscriber has just erected at his Farm, near the city, the most improved machinery for making BONE DUST, and is now ready to fill orders for any quantity, which will be delivered at the shortest notice.

The BONE DUST will be finer than any heretofore made by him, (no chemical process resorted to,) enabling the Farmer or Planter to sow it with a Drill.

Mr. Samuel Sands, well known to the Farmers and Planters of the United States as the former Editor of the "American Farmer and Rural Register," will have charge of his office, NO. 63 S. GAY STREET, near Pratt, and will be happy to receive the visits or orders of his old friends.

$45 per ton, put in new bags. No charge for bags.

Farmers and others are invited to visit my works. I have nothing to conceal.

My men have nothing nice to perform, therefore I have no "non-admittance" signs on my premises. Persons are free to examine my factory, and the modus operandi of Dust making.

I cannot afford to pay 5, 10 or 20 per cent. to commission merchants, as my profits do not exceed 10 per cent.

Bone Dust, as manufactured by me, is A simple, and its quality cannot be made to conform to the price.

LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY'S COLUMN.

LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY

OF

NORTH CAROLINA.

Incorporated by the Legislature of North Carolina, December 17, 1868.

CAPITAL STOCK - - - - $300,000,00.

General Office: Elizabeth City, N. C.

OFFICERS

J. M. WEED, President. C. W. SMITH, Treasurer.

C. H. ROBINSON, Secretary.

DIRECTORS

J. M. WEED, WM. UNDERWOOD, CHARLES W. SMITH, N. R. ZIMMERMAN AND G. B. THOMPSON.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY having a large amount of Real Estate of their own to dispose of, and their business having increased to such an extent, they think it prudent to decline acting further as Commission Agents for the sale of lands belonging to others. They will however be glad at all times to furnish every facility to parties coming to Elizabeth City with a desire to look at the country and make purchases if they find it to their interest to do so.

The following list of property, owned by the Company, is offered for sale on the most reasonable terms. Their object now is to acquire a larger monied capital for the purpose of further developing their unimproved lands and carrying out their original design of increasing the Commerce and General Trade of Elizabeth City.

As there are others in the Commission Business, parties are referred to their advertisement for further information.

ELIZABETH CITY.

The following desirable list of Properties in Elizabeth City are offered at very reduced prices for cash or on time payments at rates which make any of them excellent investments for capitalists. We feel confident that this City is destined to become a large place and property will advance rapidly. Emigration is now tending Southernward and the feeling is in universal favor toward Elizabeth City.

A large two-story dwelling known as the Parsonage, with fine double Piazza, front and back, large out kitchen, stables, carriage house, with 17 acres of ground well enclosed. This ground is all within the corporation of the City, and is well situated to lay out in building lots and make out of it ten fold the price asked for it.

A two-story dwelling containing ten rooms, 10,000 gallon cistern and all necessary out-houses, with large lot. Situated on Main Street. A Vacant Lot no better located and not so large as this was sold recently for $1600 cash.

A large brick store house and wharf situate on Water street; in E. City, comprising three lots with 400 feet of water front, permanently wharfed for the accommodation of large vessels. There is erected on these lots a large two-story brick building, 50 by 80 feet, well fitted up for a wholesale or retail trade at present occupied by the "Yankee Store."

A large wood store on west side of Water street 36 by 60, two stories high, being one of the best stands on Water street for merchandizing.

A House and Lot on Riverside Avenue. House 20ft front by 50 ft deep. Containing eight rooms with Pantry and Cellar, all well finished, modern style, and having all necessary out buildings. The lot contains a front of 400 ft, and would be a good location for a large shop or foundry as one whole side fronts on the water.

Also a large number of Wharf Lots, Mill Lots and Vacant Lots at very low prices, some of which are enumerated below. The Wharf Lots are 200ft deep and will be sold to any size desired along the River. Among them are some most eligible situations for Store Houses, Mills and Manufactories of any kind as there is a fine harbor immediately in front of them, having 30ft of water, sufficient for vessels of any capacity. Along Pennsylvania Avenue are offered some of the finest and choicest lots, for dwellings in town at prices varying according to location. This will be the finest street in town, is 80 feet wide, size of Lot 100ft front by 200ft deep. There are now a number of first class residences being erected on this street. Immediately in the vicinity of these Lots the Company have erected a large Planing Mill, Sash, Blind and Door Factory at a cost of near $20,000 and also their Saw Mill at a cost of near $15,000. That now is the proper time to invest in those Lots there can be no doubt, as they will double in value in a very short time. Lots not near so good as these, are now selling in other parts of the City at more than double the price asked for these.

VACANT LOTS.

Lots Nos. 150, 155, 158, 161, 163, 165, 167, 170. 172. 175, 178, 180, 182. 185, 187. 190' 193, 195, 198 and 200, situate on Pennsylvania avenue, in the new extension of Elizabeth City, all choice lots, intended for the better class of residences. Size of lots 100 feet front by 200 feet deep. Price varying, according to location, from $100 to $1000.

TOWN LOTS.

Lots Nos. 250, 253, 255, 256, 258, 261, 263, 266, 267, 268, 271, 283, 285, 287, 288, 289, 291, 296, 299 and 300, situated on various Streets in the new extension of Elizabeth City, size of lots 50 feet front by 100 feet deep, at prices varying from $25 to $100.

MILL LOTS.

Four Mill-Lots situated on Knobb's Creek, so that logs can be taken from the creek to the mill. These lots have 200 feet each of water front, and over 600 feet deep to Mill street, and are choice sites. The purchaser will also have the right of storage for logs in the boom.

PASQUOTANK COUNTY.

The Land and Lumber Company also offer for sale, one thousand acres of their timbered land along the Main Road leading from Elizabeth City to Hertford and Edenton, Said land heavily wooded, soil very rich and about four miles from Elizabeth City. This land will be sold in lots to suit purchasers and at the low price of ten dollars per acre.

They also offer a tract of three thousand acres in Lots to suit purchasers, near the Pasquotank River, ten miles from Elizabeth City and three miles from South Mills. This land is heavily set with wood and also has upon it a vast amount of saw timber, and has a most excellent soil. This is a fine location for a small Colony. There is now a Public Road running directly through it. This tract is offered at the low price of eight dollars per acre if sold to one party, or at only a fraction more if divided into small lots.

The Company will also sell their farm of 250 acres two miles from Elizabeth City. 125 acres cleared and under good cultivation, well fenced, having upon it two dwelling houses, one new and the necessary out buildings wanted on a farm, and will be sold on very reasonable terms.

Also another farm one mile from Elizabeth City containing one hundred acres, between thirty and forty acres cleared and under cultivation, the balance is now being cut off and is nearly ready to be cleared up and cultivated. This property is very desirable being so near the City though for reasons first given will be sold at a very low price.

We have a finely timbered tract of land situated on the Albemarle Sound twenty miles from Elizabeth City, containing 124 acres. Good timber land bordering on the water is valuable both for wood as well as saw timber as water transportation affords a good margin for wood, say one dollar per cord. This will also make good farm land—will be sold for one thousand dollars.

Also one other tract of land containing 154 acres situated immediately on the Pasquotank River ten miles from Elizabeth City, valuable for wood, and is excellent farming lands, would be sold for six dollars per acre.

GATES COUNTY.

The Land & Lumber Company have a tract of 350 acres of timbered land one half mile from Chowan River and three miles from Winton the county seat of Hertford county. This body of land is well timbered and will be sold at the low price of three dollars per acre.

☞ The most direct and cheapest route is to go to Baltimore by N. C. R. R., then Bay Line steamer to Norfolk, Va., then steamer to Elizabeth City, N. C.

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

Every drop of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT communicates through the Blood, Sweat, Urine, and other fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life for it repairs the wastes of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Syphili, Consumption, Glandular disease, Ulcers in the throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumorous discharges from the Ears, and the worst forms of Skin diseases, Eruptions, Fever Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Theum, Erysipelas, Acne, Black Spots, Worms in the Flesh, Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges. Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm and all wastes of the life principle, are within the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its potent power to cure them.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decomposition that is continually progressing, succeeds in arresting these wastes, and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood—and this the SARSAPARILLIAN will and does secure—a cure is certain; for when once this remedy commences its work of purification, and succeeds in diminishing the loss of wastes, its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better and stronger, the food digesting better, appetite improving, and flesh and weight increasing.

Not only does the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT excels all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional, and Skin diseases; but it is the only positive cure for KIDNEY & BLADDER COMPLAINTS, Urinary, and Womb diseases, Gravel, diabetes, Dropsy, Stoppage of Water, Incontinuence of Urine, Bright's Disease, Albuminuria, and in all cases where there are brick dust deposits, or the water is thick, cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of an egg, or threads like silk, or there is a morbid, dark, bilious appearance, and white bone-dust, deposits, and when there is a pricking, burning sensation when passing water, and pain in the Small of the Back and along the Loins.

VINEGAR BITTERS

J. WALKER, Proprietor. R. H. McDONALD & Co., Druggists and Gen'l Agents, San Francisco, Cal., and 32 & 34 Commerce St., N. Y.

MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects. They are not a vile Fancy Drink, made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true medicine, made from the native roots and herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequaled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the System in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist, there is scarcely an individual upon the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No system of Medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers.
